

Get festive at work for St Oswald's Hospice

Are you planning to have a workplace Christmas tree?

Get your organisation and team involved in our light up a life campaign and we'll supply you with memory star decorations, where they can dedicate a message to someone they love and miss this winter and hang it on the tree.

Memory pins

We can supply your workplace with a beautiful box of memory pins alongside a collection tin for staff, visitors and suppliers to purchase in memory of their loved ones to wear with pride.

Bake sale

Test your baking skills and have team members bring in some festive goodies to sell - mince pies, yule log, mulled wine, shortbread, Christmas cake etc. You could even have a bake-off competition with prizes for the best bake!

Share a card

Save the expense of buying cards for the office (or the shame of awkwardly forgetting a colleague!) by signing our St Oswald's Hospice office poster. Leave a donation of what you may normally spend on cards in one of our collection tubs, and proudly display your signed poster on your office walls instead.

Win an extra day off to prepare for Santa

Whether it's shopping for presents, taking kids to see Santa, decorating your house, or enjoying a mulled wine in the pub - win an extra day of annual leave to prepare for Christmas. By organising a raffle, your business could give one lucky staff member an extra day off to enjoy the festivities in the lead up to the big day.

Raffle or tombola

Get into the 'Christmas Spirit' with some festive fundraising and try to win a load of winter goodies. Can staff bring a bottle for a tombola? Do you know any local beauty salons, restaurants, retailers or travel businesses who might donate a voucher? Can friends or family create something crafty to sell? If so, holding a raffle, tombola or even auction could be a great way to raise morale and add some excitement into the work day on the lead up to the holidays!

Christmas Jumper Day

Who doesn't love a non-uniform day?! Can you hold a 'Christmas Jumper Day' where staff are actively encouraged to make a small donation in exchange for wearing a Christmas jumper, rather than their usual work attire? Tacky tinsel, jingly bells and all out cringe is very much allowed - you could even have a competition for the best (or worst!) jumper!!
